Introduction

i. Overview

This handbook provides directors of the board of Peter McVerry Trust and all the companies therein referred to collectively as 'PMVT' for the purposes of this document, with the necessary information to understand their role and responsibilities in regards to the overall governance and management of the organisation.

ii. History of the PMVT

Peter McVerry Trust has developed over 30 years' experience working with homeless young people who present with complex low threshold needs. In responding to these needs since 1983, the Trust has developed a range of services to address homelessness and the factors that contribute to it. These include services that directly provide accommodation as well as those that offer related support to address barriers to settlement such as problematic drug/alcohol use, criminal justice issues, challenging behaviour and mental health issues. Accordingly, services as they are currently configured, include Open Access, Streets to Home Support, Under 18s Residential Accommodation Services, Supported Temporary Accommodation Services, Stabilisation Service, Residential Community Detox, Residential Aftercare and Housing with Supports. All services have access to an on-call service that operates around the clock for 365 days of the year. As a result of the wide range of services provided by Peter McVerry Trust, it has established a network of relationships across both homeless and drug related services through which it concretely expresses a commitment to inter-agency working.

From 2007 to 2009 the average annual number of persons to whom those services have been delivered is just short of 400 with a pattern of increase across these years. In delivering its services in a committed and consistent fashion, the Trust has accrued a wealth of experienced-based expertise and developed a solid capacity to work with those who require various levels of support to secure and sustain accommodation.

In its Strategic Plan 2007-2009 Peter McVerry Trust, recognising the value of a "housing first" model, set itself the objective of developing its Tenancy Sustainment Service (later re-designated as Housing with Supports) by increasing service capacity (suitable property acquisition) and client security (licensed tenancy agreements). In its current form, PMVT Housing with Supports Service directly provides ringfenced low and high threshold apartment beds as well as supporting participants in local authority and private rented accommodation. All residents have support packages that reflect their level of need and ensure that they progress to independent living as soon as possible.

Peter McVerry Trust has grown substantially since 2005 and is a respected organisation providing service to the most marginalised people within the homeless population in Dublin. The Trust has taken an inspiring lead with people with high-risk behaviours and in supporting them towards independent living.

Mission statement

Peter McVerry Trust is committed to reducing homelessness, the harm caused by drug misuse and social disadvantage through its provision of housing and support services. Board: Terms of Reference

1. Legal Structure

1.1. Legal Structure and Liability

PMVT is a company limited by guarantee not having share capital: There must be a minimum of seven directors. As a guarantee company does not have a share capital, the directors are not required to buy any shares in the company.

An advantage of the company structure is that:

- It has limited liability
- It has a separate legal identity, meaning that it can;
 - exist forever.
 - sue and be sued, as all assets of the company are registered in the name of the company and not individuals.
 - employ people and issue contracts.

The incorporated status of the company means that directors do not have liability for the company debts. The only situation in which this does not apply is in the situation of fraud or gross negligence by directors, in which case individual directors may be held responsible for debts. Good reporting structures and record keeping are in place to protect all directors and ensure that practices are in keeping with the law. PMVT has insurance cover in place for its directors.

1.2. Charitable Status

The Peter Mc Verry Trust company is also registered as a charity. The charity number is CHY7256. Registration as a charity means the company is governed by charity specific legislation and is liable for beneficial taxation breaks and is able to undertake specific types of fundraising.

PMVT is a registered charity and complies with specific laws, including being registered on the charity register. It is the company's responsibility to ensure that their details are correctly entered on this register (note that registration is automatic on introduction of the new law for any existing charities). The board of directors of PMVT have adopted the 'The Statement of Guiding Principles for Fundraising' published by Irish Charities Tax Research Ltd in 2008.

PMVT is a registered charity all letters and formal documents must state this fact and the charity number.

In relation to accounting, the company's registration office will automatically forward all financial documents to the charities regulator.

On the full introduction of the Charities Bill 2007 the regulator will need to be informed of the names of all trustees. Trustees are defined as the individuals responsible for decision making within the organisation and will generally be the full board regardless of directorship of the Board.

The proposed trustees for the PMVT are the full board of directors.

1.3. Legal Requirements for a Company

1.3.1. Accounting procedures

PMVT is required to file an annual return with the Registrar of Companies. Each Annual Return must have annexed to it relevant accounts. These relevant accounts are:

- Balance sheet,
- Income and expenditure accounts,
- Directors' report,
- Auditor's report.

The PMVT annual accounts are prepared in compliance with recommended best practice namely the Charities Statement of Recommended Practice (the SORP).

These documents must be certified as true copies of those laid before the annual general meeting of the directors of the company.

The role of ensuring this is done is that of the company secretary, and the responsibility for ensuring this is done is that all of directors of the board.

1.3.2. Annual returns to the Companies Registration Office

Annual returns received more than 28 days after the company's annual return date will be liable to a late filing penalty and an additional day penalty amount accruing thereafter. The annual return date of PMVT is the 30th September each year.

This penalty is in addition to the standard filing fee. Failure to file an annual return and accounts could result in the prosecution of the company and its directors and/or the striking off of the company from the Register of Companies.

The Companies Acts contains a number of legally binding obligations which directors must ensure both they and the company comply with. These include:

- ##### 1.3.2.1. Maintaining proper accounts and submitting audited accounts with the annual return,

- 1.3.2.2. Maintaining a register of directors and directors,
- 1.3.2.3. Holding an annual general meeting,
- 1.3.2.4. Making annual returns to the Companies Registration Office,
- 1.3.2.5. Notifying the Companies Office of any special resolutions and of any changes to the memorandum and articles of association,
- 1.3.2.6. Notifying the Companies Office of any changes in the directors, secretary, auditors or the registered office,
- 1.3.2.7. Keeping minutes of all meetings.

1.4. Memorandum and Articles of Association

These are rules by which a company is governed and managed. Companies are required by law to have a Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association. These documents form the legal basis for the company. Essentially, the main purpose of the memorandum of association is to set out the name and objectives of the company (i.e. the reason for which the company has been established).

The Articles of Association are essentially the rules setting out how the company will be governed. These documents are very important as they set out the company's rules and procedures and outline what rights directors will have in terms of having a say in how the company is run. In the event of a dispute involving the company, the courts will look to the Memorandum and Articles of Association as being the internal legal documents which govern the company's activities.

All companies must lodge their Memorandum and Articles of Association with the Companies Registration Office, where they are publicly available. A sample memorandum and articles for a charity is available from the Revenue Commissioners.

The memorandum and articles are held in 29 Mountjoy Square, Dublin 1. Directors of the board can have access to these at any time. All directors should have a chance to review these as part of the induction process.

1.4.1. Review of the Memorandum and Articles of Association

These will be reviewed and amended to reflect the agreements and procedures of PMVT in the following circumstances:

- 1.4.1.1. There is a new policy or procedure in relation to any aspect of governance,
- 1.4.1.2. There is a change in the mission or objectives of the organisation,
- 1.4.1.3. There is a change to any significant aspect of the organisation activities or structure.

If the review results in a recommendation that the constitution should be amended, this will occur as described in section 1.4.2.

1.4.2. Amendments to the Memorandum and Articles of Association

It is the responsibility of the committee to ensure the Memorandum and Articles of Association accurately reflect the governance structure and decision making processes. These will be formally reviewed by the board of PMVT every five years. Any changes to these should be completed on a GI form and sent to the Companies Registration Office (forms are downloadable from www.cro.ie). PMVT solicitor will be employed to oversee any changes to the Memorandum and Articles.

2. Board Roles and Responsibilities

2.1. Relationship Between Board of Directors and Board

vi. Plan to achieve Optimum Board Size

In order to ensure that there is a seamless move to the new Board size consisting of nine directors as opposed to eleven, it is envisaged that this will happen over a period of two years 2012 – 2014. This reduction will be achieved on a voluntary basis keeping in mind the requirement of a particular skill sets and gender make up within the Board of Directors.

If an individual director resigns from the Board, he or she may not be replaced as long as the above criteria is met. However less than 20% of the current board are female and so should they resign they should be replaced and a definite effort should be made between now and 2014 to increase the number of women on the Board and at a minimum ensure that the current low representation of women doesn't reduce further.

Should more than one director resign at the same time, one of two, or two of three will be replaced to ensure a gradual move to our optimum size is achieved (nine). That way we can monitor and review the effects of the move and make any necessary changes.
