Peter McVerry Trust is a national housing and homeless charity and an essential service provider committed to reducing homelessness and the harm caused by substance misuse and social disadvantage.

The charity operates within the community and voluntary sector and provides low-threshold entry services to vulnerable adults with complex needs, and offers pathways out of homelessness based on the principles of the Housing First model. It is the main provider of COVID-19 isolation units for the homeless sector.

As such, Peter McVerry Trust qualifies as an essential service provider in line with the new public health guidelines issued on 28th March 2020 under the heading of “Human Health and Social Work Activities” as follows:

- public health activities (including all those deployed to contract tracing and COVID-19 testing services)
- drug treatment and addiction services
- residential care activities (including nursing care, mental health and substance abuse, elderly and persons with disabilities, children’s residential services)
- homecare home help and other community services
- social work and social care activities (including disability services, mental health, child protection and welfare, domestic, sexual and gender based violence, homeless services including outreach)
- employment placement and human resources associated with the recruitment and deployment of workers
- security activities to assist in the delivery of essential services and the securing of premises closed to the public
- cleaning of buildings and industrial cleaning activities; business support activities which are necessary to support essential services included on this list; payroll and payment services necessary for the operation of businesses; data processing, hosting and related activities

All Peter McVerry Trust employees are covered under this category and qualify as essential employees.
